Orphans to be Feted By AOX and DEX

The Thanksgiving season is nearly with us. The brothers of AOX and the sisters of DEX feel the spirit of Thanksgiving and are going to share it with some people less fortunate than themselves—the children of Orphan "M" and "O" at Mt. Pleasant Children's Center.

A party is being planned for the children so that they will not feel as if everyone had forgotten them. It will be a gay affair with plenty of games and many moments of fun for everyone.

Calvin Nickerson Addresses Recent Marketing Meeting

By Frank S. Juracka

The Marketing Association held its initial meeting of the semester on Thursday, October 8.

President Neal David opened the meeting by explaining to the new members the Association's affiliation with the American Marketing Association and of its advantages to them now and after graduation. The other officers of the organization were introduced to the group. They are Barbara Ranginski, Secretary; Mel Jacobi, Treasurer; Frank Juracka, Publicity Director. Professor George Bates is the Faculty Advisor.

The Guest Speaker, Mr. Calvin Nickerson, was introduced to the group by Neal David. Mr. Nickerson who is Product Planner for Monowatt, Inc., a division of General Electric, gave a very interesting and informative speech on the "Functions Involved in Marketing." After the talk, Mr. Nickerson answered questions submitted by the members. The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served.

The Marketing Association has many events planned for this semester. Among these events are dinner-speaker meetings, field trips, and movies. One tentative field trip being planned is a tour of the Narragansett Brewery.

The Association will hold its next speaker-meeting on November 12.

Chi Gam Names Chief An Honorary Brother

By Jim Sheedy

The brothers of Chi Gamma Iota are proud to announce that Felix R. Wendelschafer, more affectionately known as "the Chief," has been unanimously voted into the fraternity as an honorary brother.

The Chief, who seems to find it difficult to say "No" to the request of any student for a favor, is always ready to lend a helping hand.

Many students feel that the Chief's kindly attitude shows a paternal instinct. However, it is solely his friendliness that brings out his kind streak as this happily married man has raised three children of his own.

A native of Providence, Mr. Wendelschafer spent 27 years as a "smoke-eater" in the Providence Fire Department. His last 12 years were spent filling the post of Deputy Chief of the Department.

After leaving the Providence Fire Department, the Chief spent five years as Chief of the Fire Department at the Davisville SeaBee Base.

The Chief was offered a job as Head of the Maintenance Department at Bryant College and accepted the new position in 1948. When the Chief came to Bryant, the campus consisted of five dormitories and five other buildings. He has since watched it develop to its present status.

Bryant College is quite proud of its Maintenance Department which is as efficient and as cooperative as any around. The Chief's men are always ready to lend a hand to any student in need.

From his office across the hall from the Bookstore, the Chief maintains the Bryant Campus. No one can deny that he does his job well.

Placement Bureau Assistant Has Wide And Interesting Social Service Background

By Janice Kaufman

Doris A. Vickery, the new secretary in the Placement Bureau, is a fascinating woman with a rich background in social service. Born and brought up in a family of social workers, Mrs. Vickery was formerly associated with the Maine Department of Health and Welfare, where she assumed the role of a social case worker. Her assignments involved work with the aged, disabled, deprived children, and the blind.

With majors in sociology and psychology, Mrs. Vickery received her B.A. at Colby College in Waterville, Maine. She also has certified certificate in secretarial stenographic skills from the Brewbaker Secretarial School in Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Vickery took part in the business world as manager of the H. J. Locke and Son jewelry concern in Belfast, Maine. She was previously engaged in her own enterprise, the Jane Ayer Exclusive Gift and Specialty Shop.

A sentimental smile crosses Mrs. Vickery's face as she tells you about her twin sons, John and Thomas, who are studying at Taber Academy in Massachusetts and her daughter, Carolyn, who is a freshman at the University of Maine.

Mrs. Vickery loves being back in a college atmosphere and feels a strong bond toward Bryant since an aunt of hers, Mrs. Frank A. Vickery, is a 54-year alumna. She feels that Bryant presents a great challenge to the students and opens up the field of business to them.

As a receptionist in the Placement Bureau and through her work with Miss Ann Corcoran, Dean of Women, Miss Vickery will come in contact with many students in an effort to help them solve their problems. She expresses that the present generation would get more out of life if it benefited from the mistakes of others. She feels that it can accomplish this by developing a closer understanding of the ideas of different age brackets and by demonstrating more respect for wisdom and age.

AO, ZSO Hold Joint Meeting

By Lewis E. Dastis

On October 29, the first smoker of the semester was held by Alpha Omicron Fraternity and Zeta Sigma Omicron Sorority. AO met in the gym while Zeta Sigma met upstairs in the Student Union.

Paul DeLomba, President of AO, welcomed all to the smoker. Mr. Cunha, Fraternity Advisor, gave an interesting talk familiarizing the freshmen with the reasons for and purposes of the organization. Each officer of the fraternity was then introduced, and each explained the scope of his duties.

After the completion of the meeting, Zeta Sigma met in the gym with AO. Refreshments were served, and everyone danced to the music of the box.

Alpha Omicron's basketball team is in full swing having won two out of its first three basketball games. All members of the starting team were A. O. Pledges.

In the first game, AO won over AOX by 13 points. Evans, Frye, and Gaudette led the attack with ten points apiece. The second game AO won was played against DAV an independent team. Miller and Evans were the high scorers with 12 points apiece. The third battle with Phi Sigma Nu losing by 3 points. Miller was the leading scorer with 13 points.

PASTORE TO BE LAW CLUB'S FIRST SPEAKER

By Mike Shelley

Senator John O. Pastore, one of the best speakers in the U. S. Senate, if not the best, will speak before the Law Club on November 19. Senator Pastore, a native of the City of Providence, Rhode Island, received his education from the public schools in this state; he is a graduate of Classical High School and of Northeastern University.

He is the holder of many honorary degrees. These include some from Bryant College, Brown University, Providence College, and many others.

Before becoming a Senator he served in the General Assembly and later as Assistant Attorney General. This was followed by his election as Lieutenant Governor in 1944. Soon after this he became the Governor. In post he held several times.

In November of 1950 he was elected to the United States Senate. He served that post in December of that year. He was re-elected for full terms in 1952 and 1958.

Some of Senator Pastore's committee assignments in the United States Senate are memberships on the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy; the Appropriations Committee; and the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. On the latter Committee he is the Chairman of the Subcommittee on the Textile Industry, a committee which has been made permanent.

In addition to these committees he served as a member of the United States delegation to the Tenth Assembly of the United Nations in 1955. Later he served as Congressional Advisor to the United States Delegation to the United Nations with reference to establishing the new International Atomic Energy Agency. Senator Pastore was the Senator-designate to the initiation of that Agency at Vienna in 1957. He was also Senator-designate to the Geneva conferences on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy in 1955 and 1958.

Law Club President Bob Evans has announced that persons interested in hearing Senator Pastore are invited to hear him whether they are members of the Law Club or not. This speaker promises to be one of the highlights of this year.

SIB's Smoker Held Last Week

By Holly Carleton

The sisters of Sigma Iota Beta held the first smoker of the semester with a gathering of 180 girls. President Ellie Cardarelli acquainted the freshmen with the history and activities of SIB. Each officer followed with a brief resume of his job. Following the meeting, the sisters and guests attended a dance given by SIB-BIB. The sisters extend a sincere welcome to all freshman girls to attend SIB's teas and interviews. Dates will be posted on the bulletin board.

Last week SIB's bowling team gave a fine exhibition of bowling by taking 4 points from Sigma Lambda Theta. Freshman Vicki Powers now leads the team with a high single of 131. Following in Vicki's footsteps are Carlene Butler with a 127 string and Ellie Cardarelli with 120. The entire team bowled a fantastic last string resulting in a 543 total pinfall.

SIB's first basketball game of the season showed excellent teamwork as the sisters took a 43-9 victory over Sigma Iota Chi. Any freshman interested in playing for SIB should try to attend practice on Thursday nights.

The sisters recently presented the Salvation Army Day School and La-side Children's Home with Halloween favors. Future plans have the interest and co-operation of every sister.

Kappa Tau to Hold "Turkey Trot"

By Angie Forgetta

The brothers of Kappa Tau Fraternity will hold their Turkey Trot on Saturday, November 21 in the Bryant Auditorium from 11:00 to 12:00 P.M. The auditorium will be decorated in blue and gold, which are the Kappa Tau colors. To back up this beautiful color scheme, Kappa Tau will have the head turkey himself, Tommy Masso, and all his little gobblers supplying the music. The music will be of a conservative style to suit everyone's taste.

The highlight of the evening will be the dancing contest. It will be a contest in which fraternity brothers and their partners compete for a beautiful trophy which will be treasured by the winning fraternity. Students should plan to be there to cheer for their favorite couple. Another highlight of the evening will be the candidates for the Sno' Queen dance sponsored by Sigma Lambda Pi. Girls will be sponsored by different fraternities on campus. This presentation is always a very colorful event.

To top the evening off, there will be a door prize for the holder of the winning ticket. A unique and useful prize will be given.

The Brothers of Kappa Tau and their Sisters of Alpha Phi Kappa extend their thanks to the fraternities and societies that have supported them.

Help Week Plans Made by Delta Sigma Chi

By Vivian Bonneau

Sunday, November 22, marks the day for Delta Sigma Chi's tea to be held at the home of Arleen Scorpio in Cranston. The purpose of these sorority teas is to give the pledges an opportunity to decide which organization is best for them.

DEX bids will be given out to individual girls inviting them to become sisters on November 30.

Help Week, December 7 through 11, will see Pledge Mistresses, Judy Ferri, giving instructions to Delta pledges. DEX pledges will be easily recognized by their colorful, distinctive, attire and helpful mannerisms. Help Week is in existence to assist the present fraternity and sorority members in getting better acquainted with pledges in both fun and work. Its purpose is not to ridicule the pledges, but to offer them opportunity to realize the importance of humility, charity, and friendship.

Anyone interested in playing basketball or bowling for Delta can get in touch with Dolores Augustine or Vivian Bonneau.

Beta Sig Wins Game; Has Halloween Party

By Joel R. Siering

Overtime Game

During the final minutes of the basketball game between Alpha Theta Chi and Beta Sigma Chi, Alpha Theta was able to tie the score to close out the regular-time game with a 20-20 tie.

The overtime activity began with Alpha Theta gaining possession of the jump ball; however, they were unable to score while in possession. The scoreless, seesaw battle was terminated when Beta's Dick Davidson swished a 2 pointer from the outside. This move sent the yellow and blue's cheering section into a loud roar. The game was put "on ice" for Beta after Norm Stinehower sank two baskets from the side. During the closing seconds of the game, Paul Lockwood, an outstanding player for Beta, was sent to the free-throw line. He recovered his own rebound and was fouled while sinking the final 2-pointer game. His foul shot was good. Final score 29-21.

Halloween Party

Another successful program launched was the Halloween Party for the children of St. Aloysius Orphanage in Greenville, R. I. The children enjoyed a peanut hunt and games such as pin-the-donkey, apple bobbing, and stop the music. The children were also favored with a magical show by Michael Shelley. The young spectators made several unsuccessful attempts to divulge the methods employed by the magician. The children seemed to be quite dubious about the whole theory of magic. The day ended quite happily with the visitors being more tired than the children.

Fraternities Sponsor Sno' Queen Candidates

By Irwin Weinstein

On Saturday evening, December 5, 1959, the twenty-first annual Sno' Ball and Sno' Queen Coronation will be presented. As in previous years, most of the fraternities will each sponsor a candidate for the title. The student body as well as a panel of judges will decide which contestant will reign over Bryant College as the 1959 Sno' Queen.

Campaigning for this year's contest promises to be the most exciting that Bryant has ever seen. Spectacular displays, parades, and rallies will provide an exciting and fun-filled week on the campus from November 30 to December 5.

Sigma Lambda Pi held its smoker on Monday evening, November 2, in the gymnasium. Brief talks by Mr. Renza, Fraternity Advisor, Si Berkowitz, Fraternity President, and Max Ason, Alumni Association President, highlighted the informative evening. A social hour with the sister sorority, Beta Sigma Gamma, followed.

For the first time in three years Sigma Lambda Pi has entered into the bowling and basketball leagues. Although their start was a little slow, the brothers' participation has been excellent. Fred White Sigma Lambda Pi's athletic director, with the assistance of Shelly Land, is doing an excellent job on the sport program.

Officer vacancies that were recently filled are as follows: Vice President—Irwin Weinstein; Secretary—Art Goldberg; and Pledgemaster—John Herwick.

Ledger Increases Picture Coverage

By Alba Gatti

The students were shocked by flash bulbs that were going off and pictures that were being taken last Wednesday, but they really had nothing to worry about. It was just part of the Ledger's increased picture program. The photographer from Photo Reflex, with the assistance of members of the Ledger staff, started taking candid shots all around the campus for the 1960 Ledger.

More than forty pictures were taken including groups in the cafeteria, bookstore, library, dorms, and classrooms. Outdoor candid shots on the basketball court, on South Hall steps, and in front of the cafeteria were also taken.

The staff would like to thank the faculty for allowing the interruptions of their classes.

Joint Smoker Held By Phi U-Chi Gam

On November 9 the brothers and sisters of Chi Gam and Phi Upsilon held their smoker to introduce the Freshmen to the members and to acquaint them with the objectives, accomplishments and histories of the organizations.

The smoker began quite informally with a buffet prepared by the sisters. At the conclusion of the buffet, Linda Kent and Dave Cooke, Presidents, told the prospective pledges of the interviews to be held in the future and the plans being made for pledging. After the meeting ended, the girls were invited to remain for dancing. The large turnout indicates another successful year for Chi and Phi U.

Chi Gam and Phi U were right in step with the Halloween spirit October 30 when 40 children from the Mt. Pleasant Children's Center were guests at Chi Gam's Halloween Party. Loud cheers and laughter could be heard in the gym at the Butler Health Center as the brothers and sisters joined the children in such games as basketball, ping pong, and bowling. Completely exhausted, everyone retreated to the "chow" line for nourishment—sandwiches, pickles and potato chips, cider, and assorted pastries.

Chi Gam and Phi U are looking forward to the time when they can again have these children as their guests.

Sorority Smoker Is Successful

By Helen Weisman

November 2 was the date of Beta Sigma Gamma's very successful smoker. Many Freshmen attended, and each girl was given a favor. The sisters received beautiful flowers. After all the girls were introduced, each officer of the sorority told about her office. Then the sisters and guests joined their brothers, Sigma Lambda Pi, for a dance in the gym.

The sisters have been very busy lately as they have started to make the decorations for the coming Sno' Queen Dance to be held this year on December 5. The girls and the brothers are working hard to make this dance a big success.

Beta Sigma Gamma's Bowlers, Helen Weisman, Susan Hahn, Beverly Viner, Joyce Pascal, and Maida Gerrin, are doing very well this season. Last week they played against Delta Sigma Chi and won all four points.

The sorority is also working hard for Community Service points. Most of the sisters are working for the Red Cross at least once a week. The work is very interesting, and the girls enjoy it very much. They also plan to work for the United Fund Drive when it begins.

Phi Sig Alumni President Speaks

By Jack Loughran

Phi Sigma Nu, with President Ray Phillips presiding, held their semester smoker in the College Gym Tuesday evening, November 3. The large group of prospective pledges heard Fraternity Advisor, Mr. Lee Weaver, talk on the importance of belonging to a fraternity while attending college. Mr. Weaver pointed out that every college student should include in his curriculum some type of social outlet and that a college fraternity offered such an outlet. The advisor concluded his talk by advising the guests to "look over" all the fraternities at Bryant before making their selections.

As guest speaker of the evening, the President introduced Andy Anderson, President of the Phi Sigma Nu Alumni Association, who outlined the activities of the ever-growing Alumni Association. President Anderson stressed the importance of belonging to a fraternity with a well-organized and strong alumni association, especially one with a national affiliation.

At the conclusion of the and introductions, the brothers and guests were joined by their Sisters of Sigma Iota Chi and their guests. An evening of dancing followed during which entertainment was offered by the "Dynatones," a local instrumental and singing group.

The Brothers would like to remind anyone who was unable to attend the Smoker that he can obtain an application blank for an interview from any member of the fraternity.

A look at the sports scene in the Fraternity reveals that the Green and Gold are on the top of the heap in the bowling circuit. Placido DiFillipo and John Borek are spearheading a strong squad of "Phi Sig Strikers."

On the "hooping" side of things, the Fraternity hoopsters seem to have finally gotten started after having lost their first two decisions. Coach Suncerson figures that after a few workouts in practice, that the courtmen will really get going.

Phi Sig Bowlers Roll Over B.I.B.

Defending Champions
Trying for Third
Straight Championship

By Jack Loughran

The Phi Sig bowlers are living up to form as they continue to dominate the bowling league. To date Phi Sig has a 10 and 1 record. In addition to veterans John Borek and Placido DiFilippo, Phi Sig also has Ken and Larry Brades, Ken Allen, Bob Bianchini. Borek now leads the league with a 119 average. Phi Sig had a very prosperous day against B.I.B. They won four points and in doing so rolled a 600-game and a three-game total of 1691.

Borek and DiFilippo lead the way for the Phi Sig bowlers with 392 and 390. Barry Shammon had a 350 average for the losers. Chi Gamma has an improved team with veteran Jim Walsh leading the way. Jim held the high average last year with a 111 average and will be out again to retain the title this season. T. E. has a well-balanced team with veterans Al Fehrl, Tom Hayes, and Curt Holmes. T. E. will be up in the top brackets at the end of the race.

The league would like to welcome Sigma Lambda Pi into the league. One of the more improved teams this season is A. O. with veterans Bob DiMico, Al Kells, and Joe Mega. The A. O. boys are fighting for top honors. A. O. X. has added strength in Al Buchi and Tony Della Grotta.

Beta Sig has a fine team with four veterans returning. Dan Anderson and John Schett are pacing the Beta boys and should lead them to the play-off berth. K.T. has many new faces with Lenny DeGallo, Ronnie Berk, and John "Loverboy" Donohue. This is a team to watch as the season progresses.

Last but not least B. I. B. veterans Dick Biale, "Boots" Bromwell and Charles Terrell, B. I. B. could be a contender in the race for the championship.

It is too early to predict who will win the championship, but with any early indication of how teams look, Phi Sig looks as strong as ever. I will get out on a limb and say Phi Sig will repeat its championship form followed closely by T.E. and Chi Gamma or Beta Sigma Chi.

BIB DEFEATS AO TWICE

By Dick Biale

Beta Iota Beta Fraternity met Alpha Omicron last week in two different sports, basketball and bowling, and in each instance Beta Iota Beta came out the victor.

Over the gym last Monday the hardwood quintet took the opening tapoff and cruised to a 39-17 win over A. O. It was a fast game all the way as B. I. B. took advantage of A. O.'s laxity to cover the boards.

Tony Perini of B. I. B. held down the opposition's big scorer with fine defensive work. Buddy Sutter of B. I. B. was high for both sides with 13. Perini again was a double-threat by scoring 11. It was a fine team effort in B.I.B.'s drive toward the play-offs.

Not to be outdone by their brothers, the bowlers of Beta Iota Beta swept three of four points from A. O.'s bowling squad to put them at the .500 per cent mark. B. I. B. took the first, dropped the second, and went on to take the third for 3 and 1. It was a good team play that won it for B. I. B., and the team is sure of their slot in the playoffs.

Hallowe'en is always a time for fun. And although it's a night for the kids, lots of grown-ups assume the right to act like kids and have fun too. In the picture at the left above those things floating around are apples but mixed in with the apples are human heads—both engaged in the damp but enjoyable game of apple hobbing in an old fashioned wash tub. At the right above some happy youngsters are being treated to a Hallowe'en party by one of the Bryant College fraternities. Who is that big kid towering above the others? Could that possibly be Glenn Rogers of Alpha Theta Chi?

"Roman Holiday" and "Dude Ranch" Winning Themes for Open House

By Belle Levine

On the evenings of October 20 and 27 the dorm students put their imaginations to work. These were the nights when Bryant's annual open house was in full swing. The dorms' decorations ranged from Roman times up to the "flapper days" and back to the Pirates. A Dude Ranch even wangled its way into the scene. Much originality and thought were exhibited.

The winner for the women's dorm was Gardner Hall. The girls of Gardner showed the greatest imagination in decorations and originality. Their theme was "Roman Holiday." The togas worn by each girl and the complexity of each individual decoration helped the girls win the trophy. The center piece, a horse and chariot, was their main highlight.

The winner for the men's dorms certainly deserves a lot of credit for originality and rigorous planning. Charles Curtis House's theme was a "Dude Ranch," and the atmosphere was perfect. The porch of the dorm was turned into a corral with hay covering it. Each room of the dorms was decorated differently. The first was a display room of horse-show ribbons, saddles, and bridles. Another room represented a blacksmith shop; the next a bunk house with cowboys playing cards, and across the hall was a typical small town post office with "wanted" signs posted on the walls. A horse, not "alive," pranced its way through the halls. The boys spent many weeks in preparation for this event.

Salisbury Hall had a delightful theme called, "Three Strokes to Midnight." Cinderella's glass slipper even appeared mounted on a pink pillow. The girls were beautifully dressed in evening gowns.

Bryant Hall became a lovely garden. A rock garden and a beautiful display of different flowers decorated the dorm.

Allan House's "Cafe Somewhere" was as mysterious as its name. The dark atmosphere blended into the theme. Don Gordon's trumpet blared all night, and a floor show was the main highlight. The boys were dressed as beatniks.

Jeanette Carroll Hall turned to the Spanish way of life. The theme was "Una Noche en Madrid"—translated

"A Night in Madrid." The dorm was decorated in red and black representing a Spanish cafe.

The second place winner for the boys' trophy went to Comery House. Their "Jamaican Jamboree" put everyone in a festive mood. One of their highlights was a simulated stream.

Their walls were decorated with fish nets and seashells.

Barber House was an appropriate scene called "Fall Frolic." Everyone enjoyed and danced to the music played by a three-piece band.

Harriet Hall added a delightful touch of flavor to the scene. Their theme was "Candyland," and each girl represented a different candy bar.

Eldridge Hall gave a magnificent rendition of the "Roaring Twenties." The "flapper days" will return—according to the girls of Eldridge Hall.

Stockwell House turned into the elite "University Club." Many Ivy-league colleges were given recognition.

Anyone who was afraid to enter Stowell Hall's "Pirate's Den" because of the outside appearance should have ventured in. Not many people were robbed of their precious jewels by the pirates.

"Would you care to join a select group who appreciate the finer things in life like the fellowship of good friends and stimulating conversation?" enticed many people to visit Scott House's "Club Bohemian." A magician held the audience spell-bound.

Newman Club Hears K of C Official

Mr. Louis Caramella, a member of the Knights of Columbus, was the guest speaker at the Newman Club Meeting on Monday, October 26.

Mr. Caramella showed a film entitled, "The Ideas and Purposes of the Knights of Columbus." He then spoke to the group on the many points brought out in the film. The K. of C. is founded on the principles of charity, unity, fraternity, and patriotism. Being a Catholic Fraternal Benefit Society, it has done a great deal in Catholic seminary aid, educational trust funds, aid to the sick and needy, blood donation programs, youth programs; and it is also responsible for adding "under God" to the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. He also spoke of the activities of the Women's Auxiliary and of the insurance benefits.

At a business meeting preceding the guest speaker, plans for a Communion Breakfast to be held in November were discussed. Also discussed were the results of a regional meeting held at Salisbury Hall on Sunday, October 25.

The purpose of this meeting was to establish committees to plan for the New England Newman Club Convention to be held in Providence in April. Bryant will work actively with other Rhode Island Colleges to plan for the conference.

Rosemary Orkis will head the Bryant group which will assist Brown University on the Social Committee. Muriel Rigor will assist Newman members from the Rhode Island School of Design with publicity, and Jim Buckley is chairman of the Program Committee.

All Bryant Newman Club members interested in working on these committees are in contact either of these three people. All assistance will be appreciated.

BUSINESS EDUCATION INDEX

The Business Education Index is an annual publication of the Delta Pi Epsilon Fraternity, a national honorary graduate fraternity in Business Education, and is an index of business education articles compiled from a selected list of periodicals and yearbooks. Magazines indexed may be found in a list at the back of each annual publication. The arrangement is by author and subject entries. Business-Teacher Training students use it often in search of articles on business education which Dean Lionel H. Mercier assigns for them to read.

EDUCATION INDEX

The Education Index is an author and subject index to a selected list of periodicals, books, and pamphlets. In the front covers of each index is an alphabetical list of the magazines included. Business-Teacher Training students use this index when they search for more general subjects in the field of Education.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS INDEX

emphasis on American magazines. It has a cumulative indexing plan with annual bound volumes serving as the final permanent record. The library has the 1943, 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957 volumes. By vote of the subscribers to the Industrial Arts Index, this publication is divided into two indexes—Business Periodicals Index and Applied Science and Technology Index—effective January 1, 1958. The Henry L. Jacobs Library subscribes to Business Periodicals Index which indexes 120 periodicals in the fields of business, finance, labor relations, insurance, advertising, office management, etc., by subject only. It includes 62 periodicals not previously indexed in Industrial Arts Index. It is published monthly and is cumulated in annual volumes.

READERS' GUIDE TO PERIODICAL LITERATURE

The Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature is the most widely known and heavily used index in public libraries. It is arranged so that the researcher may check for material under author and subject. It, too, employs the cumulative technique and is published semi-monthly from September to June, monthly in July and August, and accumulated at intervals until the

VA Suggests Simple Premium Pay Plan

Ways for some GI insurance policyholders to save time and money in making premium payments and at the same time avoid the chance of a lapsed policy were suggested today by John L. Reavey, manager of the Veterans Administration office, Providence.

Veterans who draw VA compensation are urged to have their premiums taken out of their compensation payments. Reavey pointed out that this procedure saves the veteran the time and expense of drawing a check of money order and mailing it to a VA district office.

Veterans who are drawing retirement pay are urged to have the branch of the service with which they are connected make out an allotment from their retirement pay to cover their GI insurance premium payment. This too saves the veteran the time and expense of making his payment direct to the VA, and insures him against a lapse of his insurance.
